About Me

I started my creative journey by teaching myself graphic design, followed by video editing and motion graphics. After joining a creative agency, I gained hands-on experience managing projects from concept to final delivery, collaborating with teams, and working with clients across different industries. Over the years, I have also worked remotely with several companies and continue to collaborate with clients on ongoing projects.

With 5+ years of experience, my core strengths include video editing, motion graphics, visual storytelling, graphic design, and content creation. I specialize in transforming ideas into engaging visual experiences through creative editing, animation, and compelling storytelling.

I enjoy creative problem-solving, team collaboration, and continuously developing my skills. Having primarily worked in remote environments, I appreciate the flexibility and focused workflow they offer. However, I am equally comfortable working from an office when required. My goal is to create impactful visual content, contribute to meaningful projects, and grow alongside a talented team.
